

LA Times West Magazine

More on Our Native Trees

June 17, 2007

Southern California native conifers should be added to the list of L.A.'s urban trees since they are extremely water-smart and would thrive in our city. Some examples of these majestic trees could include ponderosa pines, bigcone Douglas-firs and incense cedars. I suggest planting a native Southern California conifer in your yard for each member of your family.

Dr. Reese Halter

Los Angeles